Columbia Mills and Warehouse Property

On next Friday evening, April 24, the Columbia mills and warehouse property, situate on Water street, Georgetown, D. C., will be sold at public auction at 4:30 p.m. Never has a better opportunity offered itself to investors to make a large profit on an investment. Next fall railroad trains will be running on Water street, and this splendid property must of ne cessity be in demand for freight and warehous as well as elevator purposes. The canal affords the cheapest and safest power imaginable, and the river permits vessels of large tonnage to lie directly at the doors of the warehouse. This property is the only large one on the canal which covers the entire space from the Chesapeake and Ohio canal and the Potomac river, with a frontage on the canal, Water street and river of about one hundred and twenty-five feet. The water rights derived from the canal company amount to about one hundred and twenty-five horse power, for which a most reasonable rental is exacted. This privilege alone in any other city would sell for a very large sum. The present owners of the canal account. present owners of the canal are very liberal and encourage manufacturing interests. The mills are at present in operation and pay a good rental. Altogether this is probably the most attractive investment that has been presented to the public since the great boom in the north-

The Boy Was Considered Competent When a little boy was questioned in Judge Miller's court this morning as to his competency as a witness he was asked if he knew what it was to tell the truth. His answer was that he did.

"Do you know what will become of you is you tell a lie?"
"No, sir."

"No, sir."
"Where will you go to if you tell a lie?"
"I don't know, sir."
"Well, do you know whether it is right or wrong to tell a lie?"
The little boy put his finger in his mouth and looked around as though he wanted some other person to answer the perplexing question, whereupon counsel asked:
"Why don't you tell stories?"
"I ain't got none to tell."
He was adjudged competent.

HOW THE SCORES WERE MADE.

In the first inning Hatfield sent a ball along the left line for a couple of bases and crossed the plate when Dunlap sent one out to center for a triple. In the second half Van Haltren hit for three bases and scored on Wise's bunt, and a sacrifice, an error by Carsey and a long fly hit sent Samuel over the rubber. In the sec-ond Washington made one by McGuire, who hit the ball so hard that it buried itself in a druggist's it will be mailed you upon receipt of 50 cents per box by the Winkelmann & Brown found until after the runner had crossed the Date Co. of Baltimore, Md. plate. The visitors scored one and took back the lead. Werden went to first on balls, to third on Townsend's single hit and home on a sacrifice by Cunningham. The third was un-productive for either side. In the fourth Wash-Ington took the lead by making two runs.

Davis, who played third in Smalley's place, went to first on balls and McQuery hit to left for a base. Pitcher Cunningham tried to catch McQuery off his base and succeeded all except that the runner went to second safely while Davis reached third. Carsev hit out to center for one base and both men scored. Baltimore made one in the latter half and tied the score A hit by Johnson, followed by two sacrifice hits and a single by Townsend, were the elements of the tally.

> IN THE FIFTH the Statesmen got a clean lead of one. Beeche went to first on balls and stole second. Visner sacrificed and Townsend dropped the throw of Hines' infield tap. In the sixth McQuery and McGuire reached first on balls, and scored on a couple of wild pitches and a sacrafice by Carsey. It was a close call for a tie this inning. Johnson and Gilbert made a single apiece and Warden better that Werden lifted a tall one out to center that looked safe until Paul Hines got it squarely into his hands and held it there. So sure was John-son that the ball was safe that he was nearly in when Hines threw to second and put him out. Townsend struck out and the side was retired without a run. In the seventh Baltimore made one on a base on balls, two sacrifices wild pitch.

At the conclusion of Mr. Judge's remarks Mr.

It taught one to look upon the lower classes not with a shudder and horror, but with a feeling that every man and woman had a soul, and if that every man and woman had a soul, and if they were bound by chains of vice it was all the more the duty of the others and the more en-lightened to break these fetters. She talked at length of the interest that is being taken in theosophy, which, she said, though spreading rapidly every day, is still by no means as prac-tical as it should be. Mr. Atkinson's Railroad "We." to the Editor of The Evening Star:

It seems to me that you have not scored the most offensive part of Atkinson's declarations. The Congress of this great government has taken from the quarter of a million citizens of the capital every vestige of political rights and assumes to be the guardians of the citizens, leaving the people entirely at the mercy of the railroads except as protected by Congress. The lower house of Congress constitutes Mr. Atkinson a member of the committee to protect the wards of Congress from oppression of all kinds. Mr. Atkinson was as much bound to carefully protect the interests of the people of the District as the guardian appointed by the court is to care for the interests of minor heirs. Yet he says that when he found that the people would not accept what was offered by the Baltimore and Potomac railroad that he then went into the fight to win all that he could. Mr. Atkinson stands alone as the only member of Congress that has ever acknowledged that as legislator he joined one of the parties before Congress to rob another, and in his case to harm his own ward. competitive examination for the places thus vacated, to which the former incumbents will be allowed to come. This examination will cover the field of each man's personal efficiency in his trade, his former experience, his character, habits and general intelligence. No inquiry whatever will be made into such matters, as a man's political predilections and influence will no longer be a factor.

The date for the change has not yet been determined upon. That at Norfolk takes place on the 1st of June. Besides the Washington foundry the only establishments remaining to be subjected to the new treatment are the Portsmouth (N. H.), and the Mare Island (Cal.) yards. Those at Boston and League Island have not yet been opened, although there is authority in a recent law to do so.

The delay is caused by the length of time that it necessarily takes to obtain the tools and plant for the institution of proper facilities in such large shops and it may be some months such large shops and it may be some months before these yards can be put into working or-der. It is probable that the yard at League Island, near Philadelphia, will be the first of Island, near Philadelphia, will be the first of the two to be opened. Rear Admiral Taylor Dead. Rear Admiral Alfred Taylor, U.S.N., retired died at his apartments in the Richmond at 3:35 yesterday afternoon, from pneumonia and acute bronchitis, following an attack of the grip. His children were with him at the time of his death, having been summoned here several days ago. He was born in Fairfax county, Va., in 1810, and entered the navy as a midship-man in 1826. He reached the grade of lieu en-ant in 1837, and in the Mexican war, during the blockade of Vera Cruz and the other naval operations along the Mexican coast, he served with the frigate Cumberland. From 1848 to 1851 he was detailed to duty in the Washington navy yard. He was on duty in the steamer Missischildren (less than six years of age) were all sick of the influenza. > Another Record Broken. The pedestrian contest in Boston closed Saturday night with Guerrero a winner by many miles. His score was 416 miles and his nearest competitor was Tracy, whose score was 370 miles. Guerrero eclipsed the American record of 415 miles 125 yards made by Noremac.

> Tragedy in a Mining Town. Lyon, ten miles from Wilkesbarre, was thrown into a fever of excitement on Saturday when it became known that a murder had been committed. In a bar room fight between a number of Huns and Poles about daybreak John Hanya stabbed John Silbetski. Both men are miners. The injured man was removed to his home. He can live but a few hours. Hanya's murderer was arrested at 10 o'clock in the morning, hiding in the woods near by. He was brought to Wilkes barre and committed to the county prison.

> Dynamite in Long Island Sound. The Kansas City, a powder boat, Capt Watson, is at the bottom of Long Island sound, having tipped over two days ago. It contained a ton of dynamite in small boxes. The crew got ashore safe. Fears that this dynamite may be dangerous to passing steamers from submarine explosions are entertained.

> Couldn't Endure Disgrace. Nellie Spaulding, aged twenty-two years, was arrested in Buffalo on Saturday morning for drunkenness. Fifteen minutes after she had been placed in a cell she shot herself in the right temple, dying almost instantly.

Christian Eckert, aged about sixty years, committed suicide in Camden, N. J., Sunday, by cutting his throat from ear to ear. He was he owner of the Pavonia Park, a popular German resort in that city.

VERY IMPORTANT The importance of taking a good spring medicine can not be overestimated. The changing weather affects the human system in such a way that it is now in great need of and especially susceptible to the benefit to be derived from a reliable preparation like Hood's Sarsaparilla. To make your blood pure, give you a good appetite, and make you strong, this spring you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best SPRING MEDICINE

'Hood's Sarsaparilla is invaluable as a spring med-icine; it invigorates the whole system and tones up the stomach, and since I became acquainted with Hood's Sarsaparilla I always take several bottles in the spring, and, as occasion requires, the rest of the year." L. U. GILMAN, Aurelia, Iowa. CANNOT ESTIMATE THE BENEFIT

"I can herdly estimate the benefit received from using Hood's Sarsaparilla. Last summer I was pros-trated for nearly three months, from poor circulation of the blood, as I thought. This spring the same symptoms returned, and I concluded to take Hood's Sara: parilla. I have not lost one day from my work, an feel like a different person." R. J. RILEY, Busines Manager Gazette, St. Clairsville, Ohio. HOOD'S SARSAPARIT.T.A.

CITY ITEMS. A Remarkable Cure for Catarrh and

Asthma

FROM THE REV. JACOB D. WILSON. PASTOR OF INDEPENDENT METHODIST CHURCH, WASHINGTON, D. C. TO THE PUBLIC.

During my service in our late war I con-tracted catarrh in my head and throat, which tracted catarrh in my head and throat, which later on developed into asthma in its most serious form. When the paroxysms were upon me the distressing cough and ceaseless gasping for breath, nearly amounting to suffocation, caused the greatest of suffering, almost too much to bear. Sleep at such times was impossible, and the slightest exertion greatly aggravated these distressing symptoms. In spite of all my efforts for relief, both asthma and catarrh continued and even increased in severity, until, by advice of friends, I applied to Dr. Lighthill of this city. His careful and thorough examination and investigation of my case inspired me with confidence, and I placed case inspired me with confidence, and I placed myself under his care, and within three months time he effected a complete cure of the catarri as well as of asthma. My cough is gone, I car breathe as freely as any one, sleep soundly and feel perfectly well. This great success in my case seems almost a miracle. In addition to the above, I would also mention that I am short of stature and weighed over two hundred pounds, with a tendency toward apoplexy. To avoid the danger from that cause. Dr. Lighthill de cided to reduce my weight, and during the above period a reduction of over thirty pounds was effected, to my great delight and comfort. I cannot praise Dr. Lighthill too highly for his careful attention and skillful treatment of my case.

With profound gratitude to the Almighty and with prayers for blessings upon Dr. Lighthill I make this public statement, hoping that similar sufferers will profit by it. I would be pleased to see any one interested desiring further information.
